Exterior upgrades

The refreshed Teramont maintains the same foundations of the successful outgoing model, and adds more aggressively-styled front and rear bumpers. A bold three-bar grille extends into the front light signature, creating a more sophisticated presence.

Engineered from Volkswagen's award-winning Modular Transverse Matrix (MQB) architecture, the refreshed 2021 Teramont is larger than any other vehicle in the Volkswagen portfolio.

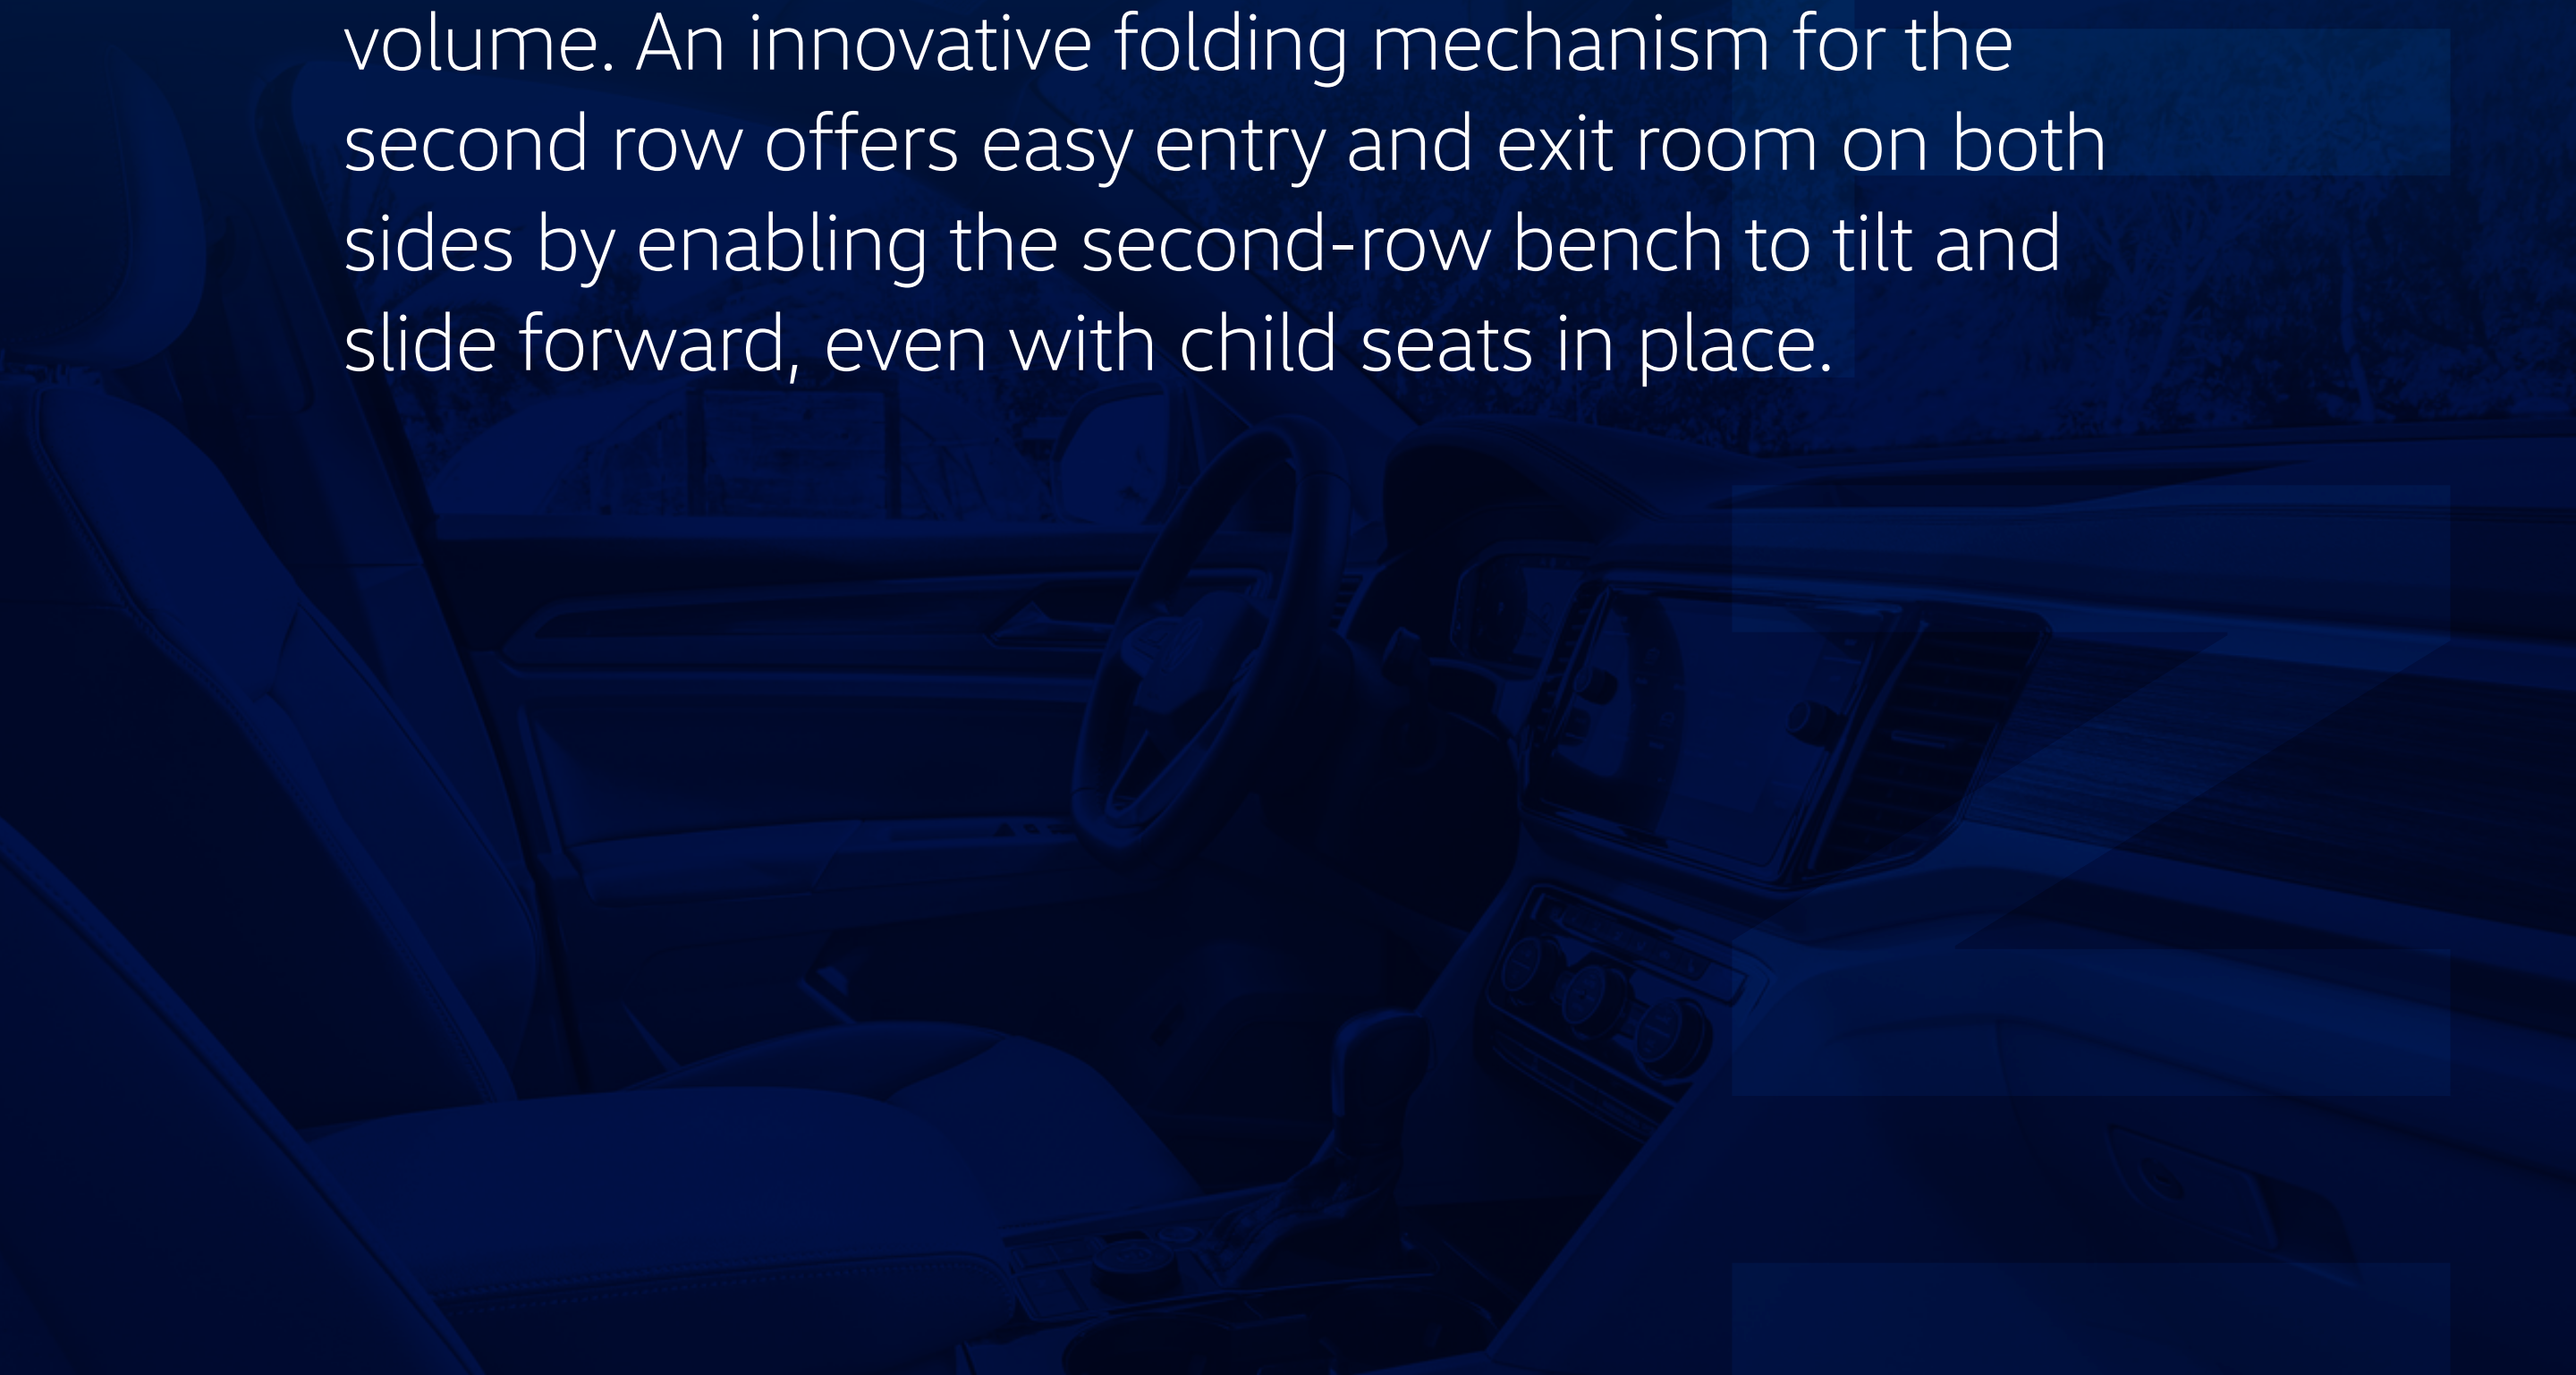

Interior highlights

The Volkswagen Teramont offers a refreshed interior for Volkswagen's largest SUV. The interior design of the Teramont is classic Volkswagen—clean and functional, with a premium feel.

Driver controls are positioned for optimal ergonomics and usability, and simple, driver-centric displays enhance involvement behind the wheel. The seat position, shifter height, and the spacing between the pedals are all designed for maximum driver comfort. With available contrast stitching on the surfaces and door trim as well as a redesigned steering wheel, the 2021 model offers a high-end environment that belies its attainable starting price.

The vehicle also adapts to every family's needs, for example there are enough charging-points to keep everyone up to speed and enough storage compartments to keep the family belongings stored when on the move.

Inside, the Teramont makes maximum use of its three-row seating layout to offer space for up to seven adults, boasting a cavernous 153.7 cu-ft of total passenger volume. An innovative folding mechanism for the second row offers easy entry and exit room on both sides by enabling the second-row bench to tilt and slide forward, even with child seats in place.

Safety Features

To help protect occupants, the Teramont provides a combination of both passive and active safety systems. Therefore, all Volkswagen models are engineered to meet or exceed all current safety standards, and the Teramont is no exception.

The Teramont offers an Automatic Post-Collision Braking System. Passive safety features include three-point seatbelt for all seats, side-curtain head-protection airbags that cover all three rows, and reinforced safety-cage construction, along with a number of electronic safety systems, such as an Anti-lock Braking System (ABS) and Electronic Stability Control (ESC).

Thanks to the extensive use of modern construction techniques and high-strength and ultra-high strength steels, the Teramont chassis manages to remain lightweight despite its upscale features and enhanced structure.

From front to back, all these devices work together to help you and your family stay safe.
